

Les Verbes Pronominaux: Révision

English is not always helpful in translating pronominal verbs in French. Reciprocal verbs in French (i.e. verbs where two subjects interact with each other) are also reciprocal in English, but reflexive verbs in French are almost never reflexive in English. You have to memorize the meanings of the verbs as whole entities. If you try to translate things word for word, you will not wind up with a French sentence!

Translate the following sentences into English:

1. Je me lève de bonne heure.
2. Marc et Sophie se parlent au téléphone tous les soirs.
3. Elles vont se retrouver au café.
4. Chantal n'aime pas se promener dans le parc.
5. Nous allons nous amuser au cinéma.
6. Ils espèrent se reposer ce week-end.
7. Marie-Laure n'aime pas se coucher de bonne heure.
8. Le samedi, c'est le jour où je ne me dépêche pas.
9. Vous allez vous acheter quelque chose pour votre voyage?
10. Mes amis ont l'intention de se retrouver à 19h30.
11. Marcel, va te coucher! Il est 22 heures.

Now translate the following sentences into French:

1. What time are you going to bed?
2. Marie and Pierre get up at 7 am.
3. My friend and I talk to each other every night.
4. We are going to have a good time at the movies.
5. I like to walk in Paris.
6. On Sundays, Michel gets ready for the week.
7. Véronique needs to rest.
8. My parents never hurry!
9. Hurry up, Henri!
10. We are going to get information for our trip.
11. My friends Marie and H  l  ne phone each other often.
